Tropical influences abound in this Point
Wells retreat by Pac
Studio and Steven Lloyd.

On a coastal site unoccupied for decades, Pac Studio and Steven Lloyd have created a home that hugs a prominent corner, with a clever play between public and private.

It's no shrinking violet, however: after years of contemplation, the owners and their designers settled on Resene Half Pot Pourri for the house's exterior – a dusty rose pink. Inside, the rooms are airy and breezy, thanks in large part to the crisp white of Resene Half Rice Cake. A summery confection, yet by no means cloying.
