Weekend DIY with Mark Rayner – 41

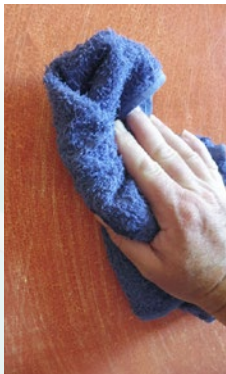

You will need:

- Bucket with clean water
- Damp sponge
- Filler
- Old towel
- Paintbrushes
- Paint stirrer
- Paint tray and roller
- Putty knife (or similar) for filling holes
- Resene Interior Paintwork Cleaner
- Resene Enamacryl tinted to Resene Alabaster
- Resene Quick Dry
- Resene SpaceCote Low Sheen Kitchen & Bathroom tinted to Resene Aqua
- Sandpaper
- Screwdriver
- Sponge

Step one

Remove bathroom fittings such as towel rails and wall-mounted cabinets. Carefully peel off old wallpaper, soaking any remaining paper with water to remove.

Step two

Wash the walls and woodwork thoroughly with Resene Interior Paintwork Cleaner and rinse off with clean water. Dry with an old towel.

Step three

Fill any holes and allow the filler to dry. Smooth the dried filler with sandpaper and wipe off any sanding residue with a damp cloth. Spot prime any filled areas with one coat of Resene Quick Dry and allow two hours to dry. Then prime the full surface with Resene Quick Dry and allow two hours to dry.

Step four

Stir the Resene Alabaster and then apply two coats to the trim and joinery, allowing two hours for each coat to dry.

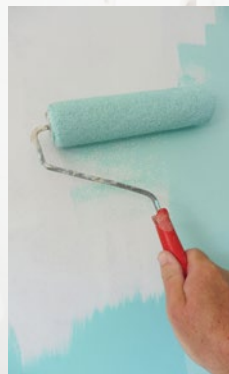

Step five

Stir the Resene Aqua and then carefully cut in around the edges, as shown.

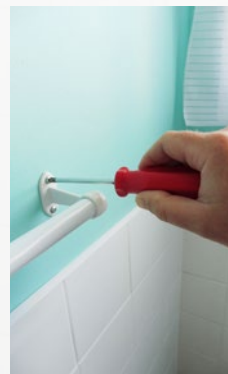

Step six

Carefully pour some Resene Aqua into the paint tray.

Step seven

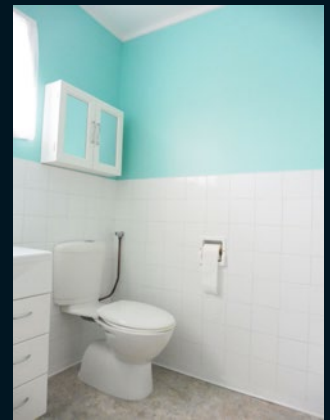

Apply one coat of Resene Aqua to the walls and allow to dry for two hours. Repeat steps five and seven.

Step eight

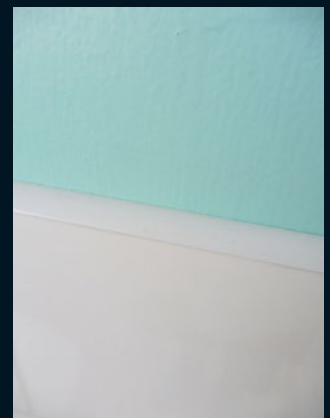

Replace all bathroom fittings such as towel rails and wall-mounted cabinets.

Transform a tired wallpapered bathroom into a crisp and clean space with a little help from Resene.

To get the look:

Mark painted the ceiling with Resene SpaceCote Low Sheen Kitchen & Bathroom tinted to Resene Alabaster.
